RUSSIANS PASS THROUGH GAPS

First Stages in Movement Against City of Budapest, Hungary

HERCULEAN SMASHES

Fighting Along Fifty-Mile Battle Front—Oposing Armies Locked in Great Struggle in Snow.

London, March 25—In the first stages of the great battle preceding the Russian attempt against Budapest a Slav force has pressed through the western gaps of the Dukla pass and intrenched itself within fifteen miles of the Hungarian city of Bartfa.

Reports both from Petrograd and from Vienna agree today that near Bartfa, and between the Lupkow and Uszok passes, the troops of the Czar are now delivering their mightiest smashes.

Since the fall of Przemysl the fighting along this fifty mile battle front has taken on tremendous importance.

News from the Austrian and Russian capitals regarding the progress of the big Carpathian battle indicate that the opposing armies are now locked in a great struggle in the snows that may settle the fate of Hungary.

A decisive Russian victory at the mountain passes will start a great force of Slav, augmented by the besiegers of Przemysl, pouring through the Carpathians into the Hungarian plain for the advance against Budapest.

According to best information in London, the Russians, who have retained control of the important passes of the Dukla, have advanced to a position near Svidnik, in Hungary. Their present objective is Bartfa, the northern terminus of a railway leading south through the principal upper Hungarian city of Kassa. Bartfa lies 150 miles northeast of Budapest.

The first great engagement, if the Russians succeed in capturing the railroad, will be fought around Kassa, forty-two miles south of the position now occupied by the Slavs.

East of the Dukla, where large bodies of Austro- Germans are clashing with the Russians north of the Carpathians, the slaughter is heaviest.

The Russians are throwing regiment after regiment against the stubborn Austro German defense in a great effort to gain control of the Lupkow and Uszok passes.

No hint has come from the Russian war office regarding the disposition of the Russian troops that invested Przemysl though German critics accept it as a fact that part of this army already is enroute to the Lupkow and Uszok pass region.

CHUCKLING OVER RAID.

Russians, by Coup, Secured Big Store of Ammunition.

Petrograd, March 25.—The raid on Memel, East Prussia, is one of the joys of today here. Army officers are openly laughing at the coup.

It seems that the Russian General Staff has been waiting for months for the psychological moment to arrive when they could send a small mobile force to the German seaport and capture the great quantities of supplies known to be insufficiently guarded there.

The proper moment came. Spies wigwagged the news over the snows and now Russia has over a million dollars' worth of perfectly good German ammunition and engineering supplies, and did not lose any appreciable number of men in the getting.

The withdrawal was effected with the same ease as the investment and with as little noise.

NEWS OF THE DAY

The formidable concentration of Austrian troops near the Italian frontier continues. Reinforcements to the number of 40,000 including several Bavarian regiments, have been sent to the province of Goeritz for the protection of Trieste. It is rumored in Rome that Austria is prepared to make peace with Russia by ceding orthodox Ruthenian Galicia, in exchange for a portion of Catholic Poland, or, if necessary, by still heavier sacrifices.

According to the newspapers of Athens, Greece will not range herself on the side of the triple entente powers by herself. She will take in active part in the war only conjointly with Bulgaria. Isolated intervention on the part of either Greece or Bulgaria, would be regarded in Athens as ineffective.

Vice President Thomas R. Marshall, representing the President of the United States, formally dedicated the Panama-Pacific International Exposition yesterday at San Francisco. Standing beneath the great arch of the Tower of Jewels, the Vice President addressed a vast concourse of people who crowded the Court of the Universe.

There have been fine responses by the London women to the government's appeal for war service which will release more men for the front Women are registering their names at the rate of 150,000 a day, and already 1,000,000 are ready to fill men's places. A striking feature of the applications is the large number of patriotic young women wishing to do real war work in connection with the manufacture of armaments. Others have specified for work as taxi-drivers, bus and tram conductors, railway booking clerks.

A British air raid on Hoboken, near Antwerp, where the Germans are constructing submarines, and another threatened effort by the Germans in Flanders are the outstanding features of war news in the western field. According to a report issued by the British admiralty, two of the five submarines which were observed on the slips were damaged, and the works set afire.

A three months' moratorium suspending the payment of all notes, mortgages, and other evidences of indebtedness has been declared throughout the territory of the Villa government. The decree is signed by Gen. Villa. Renouncing all claims to the provisional presidency of Mexico, Villa, through his border representatives, has recognized Roque Gonzales Garza as president of the national convention party, and temporarily, at least, provisional president of Mexico.

The congress of representatives of the nobility, now holding its annual sessions in Petrograd, yesterday unanimously adopted the following resolution: "The vital interests of Russia require full possession of Constantinople and both shores of the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles, and the adjacent islands.

ALL HORSES EATEN

Dire Extremities to Which the Gerrison at Przemysl Had Been Reduced

Vienna March 25—The Neue Freie Presse describes the shocking privation to which the garrison at Przemysl were reduced prior to the capitulation of the fortress. Five airmen, who made their escape, relate that during the last few weeks the hospitals were crowded with people exhausted by hunger. Almost every second man was in a hospital.

Before the last sortie on Friday each man received two tins of preserves, which were ravenously devoured. In many cases the sorely tired digestive organs could not support the unaccustomed quantity of food, with the result that the men fell ill and some of them died.

All of the horses had already been killed and eaten, including the generals' chargers. The last supply of oats were ground to meal, which, with the horseflesh was distributed to the starving.

GERMANS APPLY TORCH IN POLAND

Retaliation for Russian Occupation of Memel a Few Days Ago

FIRE SEEN FOR MILES

Kaiser's Warships Bombard Unfortified Muscovite Villages in Province on the Baltic.

Petrograd, March 25—In retaliation for Russian occupation of Memel, the Germans have applied the torch at Suwalki, capital of the Poland province of that name, according to dispatches to the war office today.

Russian aviators brought word to Grodno that every government building in Suwalki has been set afire and that the glare of the burning buildings on Tuesday night could be seen for miles.

As a further act of vengeance, the war office announced today, German warships have bombarded a number of unfortified Russian villages in the province of Courland on the Baltic.

Seven German battleships accompanied by twelve eight torpedo boats appeared along the coast near Polangen and leveled the homes of peasant villagers.

The German war office announced several days ago that the government buildings at Suwalki and other Russian provincial capitals would be burned in retaliation for alleged Russian outrages. A press bureau statement from Berlin last night said that German warships assisted in driving the Russians out of Memel, by bombarding Polangen and the road from Polangen to Libau.

MRS. BRAGER WINS POINT.

Testimony of Brothers in Friedenwald Will Case Admitted.

Baltimore, March 25.—Against the vigorous opposition of the lawyers on the other side, the attorneys for Mrs. Albert A. Brager, in her suit to recover a balance alleged to be due of her share of the estate of her father, the late Joseph Friedenwald, succeeded yesterday in strengthening their case by the introduction of testimony given by Mrs. Brager's brothers, Leo and Jacob H. Friedenwald. in the trial of the contest at Towson several years ago over the will made by Mr. Friedenwald in 1903. The suit is on trial before Judge Duffy and a jury in the Superior Court.

According to the testimony of Mrs. Brager's two brothers at Towson in the suit over the 1903 will, that will was obtained by undue influence and was acutally dictated by certain of Mr. Friedenwald's children. The testimony was taken stenographically and typewritten. Leo Friedenwald said he had seen his sister Jennie spit on the advertisement of her brother-in-law, Albert A. Brager, in a newspaper. His sisters at home harrassed their father so, he said, that Mr. Friedenwald was forced and driven to do what they said.

Jacob Friedenwald said that he heard his father tell his mother when she was ill that he would treat all his children alike.

Plowed up Body.

Sharon, Pa., March 25.—James Cullinan, plowing in a field near here yesterday, unearthed the body of W. T. A. Baer, a wealthy contractor, who disappeared a year ago. The body, wrapped in a blanket, was wound around with wire. The skull had been crushed.

Baer, who had a large amount of money in his pocket when he disappeared, was sought throughout the country by detectives in the employ of a fraternal organization of which he was a leading member. The police declare Baer was murdered and robbed, but admit they are without a clue.

ARMED PEACE A FAILURE

Baron Rosen Thinks War Will Change International Politics

A correspondent writing from Petrograd says:

It is the opinion of Baron Roman Rosen that the war should lead to an entirely new conception of international political relations. Armed peace, he points out, has been a failure, and it will be necessary to evolve a new theory for the purpose of maintaining the political equilibrium of Europe.

Baron Rosen formerly was Russian Ambassador to the United States, and served as one of the Russian envoys at the Portsmouth Peace Conference. He is now a member of the upper house of the Russian Parliment.

"The portentious and calamitous events we are witnessing." said the baron, "should it seems, impress civilized mankind with the necesity of organizing the life of the community of nations upon a different basis.

"It can hardly be denied that the much vaunted equilibrum based on the grouping of the Great Powers of Europe in two irreconcilibly hostile camps has lamentably failed. Instead of being, as was claimed for it, the surest safeguard of the peace of Europe, it has proved the cause of constant emulation between the opposing groups of powers in the growing formidable armaments, and has finally led to one of the powers concerned restorting to the crimina folly of war."

Baron Rosen reflected the view point that the war was "the revolt of mankind against the idea that might goes before right".

'This is why the sympathy of the world seems to be on the side of the allies," he continued." "No German dreams of begrudging the German people the place in the sun that is theirs by birthright among the great nations of a footing of equality, but the world will never submit to the hegemony of the 'mailed fist.'

"No one doubts the patriotism of the Germans on their determination to fight as long as their resources last. Still, the amount of suffering which the war entails, not only on the belligerents but also on the rest of the civilized world, is bound to grow from month to month as the war continues. Therefre it would seem to be to the interest of all concerned and most of all perhaps of the German people themselves to bring the war to a conclusion as soon as possible.

"The surest way of reaching such a result would be to bring about a general coalition such as crushed the power of the first Napoleon, still leaving France intact and an honored member of the family of nations. Failing this, however, a league of neutrals,especially if it be headed by the United States, might bring to bear upon Germany moral pressure sufficient to make her realize the futility of continuing a struggle that certainly could never lead to a realization of her ambitions."

Killed by Officer.

Kinston, N. C., March 25.—U. S Page, LaGrange policeman, was shot in cheek by Jerry Swinson in Wayne county a day or two ago. Swinson is a negro housebreaker who escaped from the roads in 1913 after serving 30 months of a three year sentence.

Wounded, Page seized Swinson's revolver. The latter ran and falling to heed a warning to stop, was shot by the officer. He died several hours later from wounds in the back of his head. Page, badly but not dangerously wounded, is in Goldsboro hospital. Page learned to shoot at Vera Cruz last spring.

BIG SHIPMENTS OF SHAD.

Over Thousand Boxes Shipped to Northern Markets From North Carolina.

Elizabeth City, March 25.—Over a thousand boxes of fish, consisting mostly of roe shad, were received here Tuesday morning from the down sound section. Roe shad are now selling for $1.25 each.

Shipping statistics show that the shipments of fish so far this season exceeds those of this time last year by a good number.

Washington is undergoing one of its worst epidemics of grip and pneumonia. In the six weeks which ended Saturday there were a total of 210 deaths from these causes.

ELECTION IN JAPAN CAUSING ANXIETY

Administration Had Hoped Defeat of Nipponese War Party

OKUMA CABINET LOSE

Independents in Mikado's Kingdom Gain From Twelve to Forty Votes in the Parliament.

Washington, March 25.—Scrutiny of the result of the Japanese election afforded little satisfaction to officials today.

The Administration had been hoping that the peace party would win a decided victory. Instead, however, the Independents, who voted down the Okum cabinet's tentative military plans, will increase their representation in the diet, according to reports received here, from twelve to forty, and it will be some time before it will be known whether they will now see fit to support Count Okum in increasing the army and navy.

Meanwhile it is understood that under orders from his home government, Viscount Chinda has assured the United States that Japan's position so far as China is concerned, in no way violated her treaty pledges to respect the "open door."

The Japanses ambassador and Secretary of State Bryan have held several conferences on the subject and it is understood that the Japanese position has been explained from their viewpoint, but not in a mannar to satisfy the apprehension of the United States.

FIGHT AFTER PEACE SERMON.

Blows Aimed in Vestibule of Presbyterian Edifice in Baltimore.

Baltimore, March 25.—Following a sermon last night by the Rev. Robert P. Kerr, the pastor at Northminster Presbyterian Church, North avenue and St. Paul Street, on "Peace in the World and in the Church," about a dozen members of the congregation got into a tussle in the vestibule of the edifice, and one of the leaders in the group struck out several times in an endeavor to land a telling blow.

Others in the group, among them women, hung on to the coats of the men leading the heated argument, and finally got the belligerents into the open air and homeward bound. At one time it looked as if some one would be carried from the church for those engaged showed bitterness in their faces. That the fight is not yet ended was evidenced by a remark made, as the group disbanded, by William H. Bayless, as he pointed his finger at a fellow-member of the church and warned him that he would have to answer for a remark he made to that lady today."

During the meeting in the church, which was the annual gathering for the election of trustees, the lie was passed, and Dr. Kerr had to rap vigorously on the pulpit and demand that Mr. Bayless not deal in personalities. Even then Mr. Bayless would not be quieted and continued to point his finger at what he called the "opposition" on one side of the church and declare loudly, "That is not true; I say it is not true."

At one stage of the meeting, Hyland P. Stewart arose and proposed that the Christian Endeavor branch there be disbanded, hinting that the "opposition" which Mr. Bayless referred to was born and bred in this organization of young people. Put to a vote of the congregation, the motion was lost by a not too large margin. The women seemed to be firmly with the so-called "opposition."

It is not believed that many of the members of the church suspected that there would be trouble, but no sooner had the proposition come to put the ticket for trustees in the field for voting than an opposition ticket appeared. The "regular" ticket was white and the "opposition" pink.

NO NEED OF PERISCOPES

Will Make Attacks by Submarines Possible When Completely Submerged

New York, March 25.—Submarines will no longer be forced to risk destruction by showing their periscopes. Hudson Maxim has perfected an invention that will make possible attacks by these underwater fighters when they are completely submerged.

The invention has been pronounced by naval officers as most revolutionary in character. Submarines of to day are forced to poke their periscopes above the surface before discharging torpedoes.

Only by doing this can accurate aim be taken, and only by using the periscope or by coming up altogether can those in the submarine be sure that they are actually cruising in the direction they desire.

The new apparatus, however, will change all this. When in use it will enable the commander of a submarine to submerge when off Sandy Hook and remain submerged until he reaches Block Island Sound. And he will know without coming to the surface exactly his location on the entire voyage.

"If it works it will increase the power of the submarine 1,000 percent at least," said a naval officer. "It is the one thing needed to complete the power of the submarine, for it makes possible its attack without allowing those in the super Dreadnaught to know its location.

"At present, submarines can discharge torpedoes while more than one mile away. This gives little chance of the victim detecting the periscope, it is true, but still it does give the chance. With no periscope exposed, those on the surface will be totally unable to discern from where the attack will be launched."

Mr. Maxim for the present is keeping his invention a secret and he refused today to give out any information whatsoever concerning it. It is certain however, that the United States Navy will be the first to be offered it. Its submarines, thus equipped, will become the dread of all the world, naval experts declare.

WOULD ABOLISH OFFICE.

Plan to Make City Treasurer Collector of Taxes of Norfolk.

Norfolk, Va., March 25.—If the Common Council and Board of Aldermen in separate session adopt two resolutions that are to be introduced in those bodies tonight the office of city collector will not be as desirable a position as it has been in the past.

One of these resolutions provides that the city collector shall be paid on a flat salary basis instead of by commissions, as is at present the case, while the other resolution calls upon the members elected to represent Norfolk in the next State Legislature to have enacted a law repealing Section 33 a, of the city charter, providing for the election of a city collector and to have passed an amendment to Section 34, so as to place the duties of the city collector under the city treasurer.

EIGHTY MILLIONS FROM INCOME TAX

Result Much Larger Than Anticipated a Short Time Ago

CAUSE OF OPTIMISM

War Conditions Seem to Have Had Far Less Effect Than Expected on Profits of the Public.

Washington, March 25.—A strong current of optimism has developed in administration circles as a result of preliminary reports regarding the income tax, which have reached the treasury department. The effect of these reports has been not only to inspire confidence that the collections from the tax will total $75,000,000, which is only $5,000,000 short of the amount which it has been relied upon to produce, but also to make some officials feel that the general industrial situation in the last year has been better than has been represented.

In other words, officials say that the returns made to the collectors of internal revenue on March 1 show no marked falling off in incomes either of individuals or corporations.

The first information regarding the probable revenues to be derived from the income tax developed following a conference with internal revenue officials by Representative Hull, of Tennessee, the member of the Ways and Means Committee who wrote the income tax law. Mr. Hull conferred with Commissioner Speer, in charge of the income tax division. Following these conferences he made the confident prediction that the collections for the fiscal year will reach $75,000,000. He pointed out that $10,000,000 already has been paid into the treasury by corporations which have arranged their fiscal year so that taxes are payable before the limit fixed by the law.

Commissioner Osborne, in his annual report, estimated that the income tax collections for the present fiscal year would reach $30,000,000. Since that report was published, however, there have been many evidences of business depression which gave rise to the belief that there had been a shrinkage in both number and size of taxable incomes and that the collections would consequently fall far short of these estimates. The anticipated falling off of the income tax revenue played a large part in the estimated treasury deficit which had been predicted for the end of the fiscal year.

Mr. Hull was enthusiastic today with having received the information on which he based his estimate that the collections would reach $75,000,000.

IN MEMORIAM

SORRELL—In sad but loving memory of my dear father, ROBERT SORELL, who fell asleep in Jesus one year ago today, March 25, 1914.

God shall wipe away all tears from my eyes.
And there shall be no more death;
Neither sorrow nor pain,
But my dear and I shall see again.

Day by day I saw you fade
And slowly pass away,
But in my heart I often prayed
That you might longer stay.

Your toiling hands are crossed
And ceased this world of care,
You have left me broken hearted
With no father for me to care.

Sleep on, my darling father
How sweet to breathe thy name;
In life I loved you dearly,
In death I do the same.
By his lonely daughter, Carrie Harrison.

IMPROMPTU REGATTA.

Negro Charged With Stealing Fish Attempts to Make Escape in Row Boat

Shortly after noon today the police station was notified that a negro named William Henderson had stolen some fish from the store of H. Kirk and Sons. Sergeant Scott hurried to the store, but the negro could not be located. After the sergeant had returned to the station house a telephone call stated that Henderson was lurking around the wharves. Sergeant Scott and Officer Reed hurried to the river front, but they learned that Henderson had entered a row boat and was out in the river endeavoring to cross into Maryland.

Alpheus Robey offered the use of a motorboat to the officers and Officer Reed having been directed to keep on the lookout from the wharves the sergeant and Robey entered the motorboat and gave chase to the fugitive. Henderson saw that he was being pursued, and realizing he would be caught if he remained in the river, he attempted to reach the Norfolk steamers' wharf in order that he might land and make his escape, but seeing Officer Reed was ready to receive him, he turned his boat again into the channel. After a zigzag race between the motorboat and that which Henderson was propelling with oars, the fugitive struck his colors and his boat was towed ashore. He was placed in the station house and will be brought before the Police Court tomorrow morning.

PASSOVER NEXT WEEK

Seven Days' Festival in Early Spring Commemorates Exodus From Egypt.

Services in observance of the Feast of the Passover will be held at Jewish Synagogue on north Washington street at 6:15 o'clock on Monday evening next, and on the following morning.

Passover (Pesach) is the seven days' festival observed by the Jew in the early spring in commemoration of the exodus from Egypt. In ancient Jewish life it was the first of the three Pilgrim festivals, upon which every male Jew was required to present himself in person at the central sanctuary in Jerusalem. Although the Passover has certain features in common with the universal spring festival, it is its historical significance which gives it lasting vitality.

It is the great independence day of the Jew; the first event in his national history, an event which became fundamental in all his thinking, too, as evidenced by the frequent reference to the great deliverance.

During the week of the festival, unleavened bread is eaten instead of the usual leaven.

BRING CASE TO COURT

Aftermath of Appearance of Stranger At Poker Game Early Yesterday Morning.

As was stated in the Gazette, a dozen or more poker players of Alexandria had a rude shock yesterday morning when they were held up by a masked stranger who gatherd in a pot of more than $35 at the point of a pistol and later in the day were summoned to appear in police court this morning where a charge of unlawful gambling had been entered against them.

The men were playing in a poker room underneath the Alexandria Opera House. The game had started early Tuesday night and it was 4 o'clock yesterday morning when the hold up took place. One of the players was just sweeping in the pot when a revolver was poked into his face by the stranger who had a hankerchief tied over the lower part of his face. Quietly gathering up the money on the table while the players sat spellbound, the unwelcome visitor backed out of the door and made his escape.

The players were sworn to secrecy, but during the day details of the hold up leaked out. The police got on to the story, and yesterday afternoon began rounding up the men who were sitting in the game. Corkey Reynolds was charged with conducting a gambling house and seven others charged with gambling. Their case came before Police Justice Caton this morning and the men entered a plea of guilty. A fine of $20 was imposed on Reynolds and $5 each on the players.

HOT CROSS BUNS.

Delicacies Will be in Season One Week From Tomorrow.

The approach of Good Friday is the day which brings the cross buns a sina qua non of the occasion, and already recipes for the preparation of these inviting accompaniments are being published.

Americans who have strolled through the streets of London have had their attention attracted to the pastry cook establishments of that old city. Pastry is a feature of the metropolis, pies and cakes being among the most prominent commodities. While tarts, made from all sorts of fruit, are temptingly displayed, meat pies are also in profusion. The day upon which hot cross buns are dispensed taxes the London bakers to their limit. Everybody wants them, and while they are sent broadcast from the bakeries, they are hawked through the streets by men who ring bells and sing songs in allusion to the delicacies they are dispensing.

In our country the supply is always equal to the demand, and Alexandria bakers will furnish all desired. But while the United States is blessed with full and plenty from which to make hot cross buns or any other preparation in the way of cakes or pies, it is not so elsewhere at present.

The German government has been compelled to prohibit pastry making from Saturday next under heavy penalty in consequence of the limited amount of flour on hand. No cakes or any thing in the way of delicacies made from flour appear in shop windows. Similar conditions prevail in Austria.

DIVORCES GRANTED.

In the Corporation Court yesterday two decrees for divorce were entered. Arthur Dulaney was given a divorce from his wife, Lottie Swan Dulaney, on the ground of desertion, and Jessie M. Chilcotte Trucks was divorced from her husband, Hugh M. Trucks, on the same ground. Both plaintiffs were represented by Attorney Robinson Moncure.

In the Corporation Court today in the case of Ernest Recker vs. Grace S. Recker a final decree was entered granting a divorce to the plaintiff from the defendant on statutory grounds. The plaintiff was represented by Louis N. Duffey.

"MIGNON" TONIGHT.

To the motion picture patrons there is but one consideration on witnessing a production, Does it interest? "Mignon" does this, and more. Like a flash, the plot is projected. The liaison of Lothario with the gypsy's daughter, her death and the picturesque capture of their tiny daughter. Then comes madness to Lothario, and he leaves home to begin a world-wide search for "Mignon." The above is but a prelude to what follows. Miss Michelena as "Mignon" is superb and the supporting cast excellant. At the Surprise tonight.

Alexandria Gazette AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THE ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE PUBLISHED DAILY

ROBERT S. BARRETT, President and General Manager.
HOWARD W. SMITH, Secretary and Treasurer.

The Alexandria Gazette Corporation
Gazette Building . . . King Street
Entered at the Postoffice of Alexandria, Virginia as second class matter.

"HOPE HEARS THE RUSTLE OF A WING."

While the cabinets of the European nations now engaged in death grapples in the eastern and western war zones emphatically deny that any signs of peace are in sight, straws are moving leisurely through the air which may not show infallibly the direction of the wind, but the fact that they continue to come from one direction may be regarded as ominous. The Gazette yesterday referred to the fact that Wall street was scenting peace, and not afar, either.

This money mart is so impressed with the upward movement of securities on the stock exchange, which it ascribes in part to a belief that the war soon may enter its final stage, that it has begun betting on the termination of hostilities. Even money is now offered that the war will end within four months, and odds of 8 to 5 are asked that peace negotiations will be under way before the end of June.

While it may be urged that Wall street should not be taken as a perfect barometer upon this occasion, certain dispatches which are appearing show that peace is being scented elsewhere, and that present conditions will not continue much longer.

Dispatches from Geneva state that Austria-Hungary might consider signing separate peace with Russia without considering Germany, offering as a concession to cede Russia large portions of Galicia.

It is also reported in Geneva from Vienna that Emperor Francis Joseph has had several interviews with the papal nuncio and it is reported that he is trying to persuade Emperor William, through the Vatican, to allow Austria to conclude a separate peace with Russia.

Red posters inscribed "Bread or Peace" are continually appearing in towns in the province of Schleswig-Holstein and Hamburg and Luebeck, and although the police remove them as soon as possible similar placards reappear next morning.

The news of the fall of Przemsyl has caused intense excitement throughout Bohemia and Moravia. Risings against the Austro-Germans are said to have occurred in all the big towns. Mutinies have broken out in the garrisons of Prague, Iglau, Budweis, Pilsen, Taber, and Reichenberg, and the Germans are fleeing the country. It is stated that Czechs are hanging the Russian [illegible]arch.

Fifteen thousand cases of cholera and typhus fever are reported in Przemsyl and great suffering for want of necessaries of life are being experienced by the people, all of whom are thoroughly tired of war.

DEATH OF MRS. JACKSON.

As was stated in the Gazette, Mrs Mary A. Jackson, widow of Thomas Jonathan Jackson, died in Charlotte N. C., yesterday of pneumonia. Her decease was not unexpected, as her illness assumed a dangerous phase early in its stages, and she had been unconscious nearly twenty four hours before death closed the scene. Her remains are now on their way to Lexington, Va., where they will rest by the side of her husband, whom she survived fifty two years.

Mrs. Jackson was a native of North Carolina. She was a few years younger than General Jackson, who was a major when the twain were made one. Mrs. Jackson, while fond of literature and with the ability to use a pen, became a close student of military tactics at the breaking out of the war in which her husband soon became a prominent figure, and during the four years' strife manifested great interest in the fortunes of the Confederacy.

The deceased was an ideal southern woman, and since the close of the war she had been prominent in all movements for perpetuating the memories of Confederate days and the principles for which the Southern people contended. She necessarily made many acquaintances by mingling, as she did, with gatherings of women interested in various oragnizations, and her death is regretted by all who have met her. Left to fight the battles of life alone in the third year of the war, this noble woman surmounted all difficulties, and after a widowhood of over half a century, she, too, is resting beneath the shade of the trees with the companion of her young womanhood.

GOOD FRIDAY DRAWS NEAR.

Next Sunday will be Palm Sunday, and it will be celebrated in most evangelical churches in commemoration of the entry into Jerusalem of the Great Head of the Church accompanied by the hosannas of a fickle multitude. One week from tomorrow will be Good Friday one of the most sacred of all days in the Christian calendar, which will be observed by Catholic, Greek and Episcopal churches throughout the world, while its shadow will, more or less fall upon all evangelical denominations.

Times have changed since the Good Friday of 1914. The dark cloud of war hangs low over countries where the occasion is more closely observed than in America. Ten days hence Easter bells will be in the air on our peaceful shores with all the joyful associations connected with the advent of spring and the ending of the forty days of spiritual meditation and self denial. Sable mantles, however, will be moved by the gentle breezes elsewhere where vacancies will be in evidence in churches and at the family board. There are faint signs of peace in the sky. We all hope they will soon become more defined, and the chimes of Easter may be followed by hallelujahs welcoming the dove of peace which has for more than half a year been hidden by the smoke of battle.

A TWICE-TOLD TALE.

Good news bear repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of an Alexandrian man is confirmed after several years.

J. T. Langley, 513 Queen St., Alexandria, says: "I had a bad back and I think the trouble was caused by a strain. I could not stoop and when I got up in the morning, I could hardly move. I noticed sediment in the kidney secretions. The many good reports I heard of Doan Kidney pill led me to get a box at Leadbeater & Son's Drug Store. They fixed me up in fine shape. During the past few years snice Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney complaint. I have had no trouble. I confirm the praise I have previously given this remedy."

THE LATE MRS. JACKSON

Her Death Recalls Her First Acquaintance With the General

Lexington, Va., March 25.—The body of Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, whose death ocurred yesterday morning in Charlotte N C. is expected to reach Lexington early tomorrow morning and is expected to be interred that day in the vault of the cemetery here by the side of General Jackson.

Mrs. Jackson first visited Lexington in May 1853, when she was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Hill, wife of Major D. H. Hill, afterwards General D. H. Hill, of the Confederate army, who was a professor at Washington College. She then made a pleasant acquaintance with Major Jackson. Major Jackson was married the following summer to Miss Junkin, whose death occurred soon after the marriage. His acquaintance with Miss Morrison was renewed early in 1857, and she became the wife of Major Jackson the 16th of July 1857. She spent three years of happy wedded life in Lexington, which was ended by the departure of Major Jackson to become a Confederate soldier on April 21, 1861.

Mrs. Jackson visited General Jackson in camp after the first battle of Manassas and spent the winter of 1861-1862 in Winchester, where she saw much of him. She went soon after to Charlotte, N. C., which was afterwards her home.

DIES ENCASED IN STEEL.

Man Lives Eight Days After Metal Hardened on Body.

Philadelphia, March 25.—Joseph F. Lee, 44 years old, died yesterday in the Germantown Hospital, after living for eight days with the lower part of his body encased in a coating of steel which had poured over him while hot, and hardened.

The accident happened on March 16 at the Midvale Steel Works. Lee, with several other men, was lifting a huge ladle of molten metal when it overturned upon him. He was hurried to the hospital, but by the time he reached there his body from the waist down was bound in the steel, which had burned away clothing and flesh. Surgeons tried to chip the metal away, but to no avail.

MURDER STILL A MYSTERY

Negroes Held As Suspects Prove Alibis and are Given Their Liberty.

Farmville, Va., March 25—New clues are reported to have been found in connection with the killing of Phillip Goetz, an aged and highly respected merchant who was found murdered last Friday morning in his store at Simplicity, Va., Additional arrests are expected within the next twenty four hours.

Jesse Hurt and Charlie Woods, two negroes who were reported to have recently engaged in a row with the unfortunate merchant, and who were arrested under suspicion of being guilty of the murder have just been released after a hearing before Magistrate J. W. Figg. Both negro proved an alibi.

The case, in some respects, resembles the famous Lunenburg county murder of several years ago when the aged wife of a respected farmer was slain in the yard near the house in which she lived. An axe was used to kill her. Solomon Marable, a negro, paid the death penalty for this crime, in which "Pokey" Barnes and Mary Abernathy, negro women were alleged to have been implicated.

An axe was used to murder Mr. Goetz, his skull being fractured. The axe used to commit the crime was found and was covered with blood. The person who dealt the fatal blow had evidently asked Mr. Goetz for a lamp chimney, and when the aged mechant turned to go to the rear of the store the axe was brought into use.

It is reported today that suspicion now points to several persons living not far from the scene of the crime. The cash drawer of the store was robbed, and it is thought many articles in the store were stolen. The victim's pockets were not robbed, however, as $40 was found on his body after the murder. Mr. Goetz slept in his store.

The victim was a German and leaves one brother—J. Paul Goetz of Meherrin Lunenburg county. They conducted two stores— one at Simplicity and the other at Meherrin—under the firm name of Goetz Brothers. Posses are now searching throughout this section of the State in efforts to capture the guilty persons.
